

Returning to Farnborough in 2020, the FINN Sessions will once again provide a forum to share and discuss the major topics and trends affecting the aerospace industry today. Visitors can expect to see thought-provoking keynotes, panel discussions & topical presentations delivered by thought-leaders designed to educate, challenge perceptions and provide ideas for the future.

The inaugural FINN Sessions took place at FIA2018 and were met with an overwhelmingly positive response.

Over the 5 trade days we saw the 2 dedicated on-floor theatres host 44 Sessions, 67 Speakers and over 2,030 audience members. Topics covered in 2018 included: Aerospace 4.0, Brexit & Regulation, Cyber Security, Engines & the future of Engineering, Space and Supersonic air travel and many more.

Set across two theatres the seminars will split their focus; Hall 3 on innovation and the new technologies and Hall 4 on insight and the major topics affecting the aerospace agenda today.

The FINN Sessions are looking for speakers and content from the following areas - could this be you?

For 2020, the Farnborough International Airshow is creating a brand new platform that offers companies access to an inspired and engaged audience who are interested in filling these gaps.

As part of the regular Friday trade day programme, Farnborough Friday will provide an opportunity to engage with the talent that the industry needs to reach:

- STEM-focused school & college leavers
- University students and graduates
- Skilled workers exploring new avenues
- Industry apprentices
- Entry-level professionals in Aerospace & Defence

Blending keynotes, panel discussions & topical presentations, The FINN Sessions are looking for speakers and content to inspire the next generation.

If you want to share your experience building a career in the aerospace industry or showcase the opportunities available, enter your submission to speak at Farnborough Friday.
